

Curriculum Vitae Matthias Lehmann

After his training as a farmer Matthias Lehmann began studying Visual Communication at the Kunsthochschule Kassel.

He graduated in the movie/television department and worked as a camera assistant for several years.

Since 1996 Matthias has been active as a freelance, independent cinematographer/d.o.p.

in versatile film genres and formats.

His professional portfolio includes works for well known brands as Sony-Ericsson and Deutsche Telekom, as well as corporate film, short fiction film and music video.

He also executed projects in the area of camera and directing.

In 2001 Matthias received the "Best Short Film Award" for the short film "Forkliftdriver Klaus" from the German Film Critics.

In 2001 the advertising film debitel „Knutschen“ won the Finalist London International Advertising Award.

2001 KD Drogeriemarkt "Policestation" won the Spotlight Jury Silver and Audience Silver.

In 2011 he won the "Best Short Film Award" for the short film "Go Bash!"

Alongside his career as a cinematographer/d.o.p. Matthias has been working voluntarily for the children's and youth film (Jugendfilm e.V.) for 8 years now.

With his commitment and further film projects such as "Go Bash!" he acquired long term experience in film shooting with children and young people.